How you can support your child in the Performing Arts:

Expose your child to a diverse range of music, dance and drama, through live shows, television, radio, video and internet. This can include the wide range of free street and park performances you can enjoy in London. Try to be encouraging and help your child to feel to explore how they express themselves both vocally and physically. If they show particular interest, look into local theatre and dance groups.

Please keep in touch with the Performing Arts Science section should you feel your child is struggling or needs more challenge – let us know. Emails can be sent to: admin@elmcourt.lambeth.sch.uk.
